

JESSIE J. SKINNIDER, ASSOCIATE

Jessie Skinnider is an Associate in the firm's Litigation and Dispute Resolution Group. She has a diverse litigation practice that spans many areas of law, including insurance defence, property-related disputes, employment, human rights, and personal injury. Jessie also has experience with shareholder disputes, administrative law, regulatory offences, and criminal law.

Jessie's approach to practice proceeds from a careful study of the legal fundamentals relevant to each case. Clients can expect thorough, practical and balanced advice.

She has represented clients in proceedings before all levels of court in British Columbia, and has also assisted clients with tribunal matters and administrative review procedures.

Jessie first joined RBS as a Summer Articling Student in 2017. Prior to returning to the firm for her articles, Jessie clerked for seven judges of the British Columbia Supreme Court. As a Judicial Law Clerk, she conducted legal research, prepared written memoranda, and edited draft judgments. Her experience in this role also included observing trials, appeals, and chambers hearings.

She obtained her law degree from the University of British Columbia in 2018. She has been drawn to litigation ever since competing in the National Labour Arbitration Competition as part of the UBC Law Team. Throughout law school, she volunteered for various initiatives of the Canadian Centre for Elder Law and the British Columbia Law Institute (BCLI/CCEL). In recognition of her academic excellence and leadership, Jessie was awarded the Peter Howard Memorial Scholarship, the John J. and Patricia A. Campbell Scholarship in Law for mediation and dispute resolution, as well as course prizes for high academic standing in contract law, family law, and labour law.

Jessie is a graduate of the prestigious interdisciplinary Arts & Science Program at McMaster University, with a specialization in economics and statistics. Outside of the office, she enjoys hiking and kayaking around British Columbia with her husband and their dog.
