While attending Carleton, he played as a winger for the university's rugby club and was a member of Hatch innovation hub and the Black Students Alliance.

Prior to law school, Kwame worked as a legal assistant at two Vancouver law firms, gaining experience in construction and family law.

At Windsor Law, he has continued to pursue leadership and community engagement, serving as the Lead Social Media Chair and photographer for the Black Law Students' Association (BLSA) - Windsor Chapter (2024-2025). He was recently elected Vice President of Finance for BLSA Windsor for the upcoming 2025-2026 academic year.

In his free time, Kwame is passionate about bodybuilding and powerlifting, enjoys golfing, exploring local breweries, and values spending time with friends and family.
